Wahlquist Talks to Householder Group On College Housing Accommodations

President John T. Wahlquist will speak to approximately 100 householders this afternoon from 1:30 to 3:30 at a meeting of the College Housing committee, according to Mrs. Izetta Pritchard, housing supervisor.

Topic of his talk will be "The Relationship of Living Accommodations to a Satisfactory Experience in College."

Students May Get Citations For Parking

Students have been requested by Byron Bollinger, supervisor of construction and repair, not to park in the loading zone of the new receiving department headquarters located at the corner of Eighth and San Fernando streets.

Bollinger said that the area adjacent to the receiving department is owned by the city. Students parking there will be subject to parking citations issued by city policemen, he said.

Signs have been posted asking students not to use the area for parking, but so far they have not been heeded, according to Bollinger. Automobiles in that area make it difficult or impossible for large trucks carrying supplies to the college to back in to the loading platform, he said.

The receiving department officially opens its new headquarters Monday. It was previously located in the basement of the Science building.

Committee Studies Class Aids Today

Main item of interest at today's meeting of the Fairness committee will be a report of a sub-committee studying the possibility of providing aids for classes interested in questions of fairness.

According to Dr. Elmo Robinson, committee chairman, one aim of the Fairness committee has been to occasionally have questions presented to classes which would arouse interest in fairness. The sub-committee has been studying the possibility of applying such assistance as audio-visual aids to the process.

Dr. Robinson also stated that the last communication he received on membership stated that student membership on the committee was lagging. Lower division students or juniors are preferred on the committee, he said, because two year's membership is of much more assistance than one.

Today's meeting will be held in Room 106 at 12:30 p.m.

Nineteen Killed as Airliner Crashes, Burns on Slope Near Half Moon Bay

HALF MOON BAY, Calif., Oct. 29 (UP) — A four-engine Trans-Pacific airliner with 19 persons aboard, crashed on the heavily wooded slopes of a mountain range just three minutes shy of its destination after an 8600 mile over-water trip.

Air Force planes, circling overhead, radioed the big DC-6 was "burning fiercely." They reported the fire had spread to dry underbrush surrounding the wreckage.

Eleven bodies were recovered from a deep ravine by a combined Coast Guard and Air Force ground rescue team. The rescuers picked through the smoldering wreckage for the remainder.

Only one American, William Kappel, was reported among those killed.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 29 (UP) — Rumors on the Ohio State university campus were that Miss "Enchanted" was running a strong race in the contest for homecoming queen to be announced Saturday. Miss "Enchanted" is a decent, skunk entered by a student war. Campus oldsters recalled that Maudine Ormsby won in 1926. She was the prize cow owned by the College of Agriculture.

Mani Lectures On Illiteracy In Far East

Indian educator Korah Madayil Mani emphasized his country's great need for the successful combating of illiteracy in a speech before approximately 150 people in the Concert hall of the Music building last night.

He pointed out that India is faced with the need to industrialize, and the only way she can achieve it is through an educated populace. But educating Indians is a difficult undertaking Mani pointed out, for in India "education has not come down to the people."

The reason for this is the country's lack of money to train teachers and build schools. Mani said that only primary education is supported by the state in his country. These are the first five years of school. Any education after that comes from the individual's own pocket.

After the five elementary years, the student may proceed to three years of junior high school and three years of high school. He is then ready to enter college. Very few Indians get this far, Mani said.

The great majority of the population does not receive even the primary schooling.

Mani began his speech by pointing out the essential brotherhood of all men, and stated that education in India was trying to inculcate democratic principles. He showed a few colored slides during his talk and answered questions afterwards.

Mani, 44, is on a tour of this country. His visit is being sponsored by the Government Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. He is the principal of a teacher training college in India. On his visit to San Jose State he concerned himself with the administration and education of secondary schools.

His speech at the college was sponsored by the International Students Organization.

TV Guild Presents Radio Play Sunday

San Jose State Radio and TV guild will present a radio drama, "Time Out for Love," Sunday night at 7 o'clock over station KEEN, according to Virginia Grattan, production director.

The cast for this week's production was selected by Miss Grattan. The entire presentation will be produced by the students.

State Gives Nod On Revised Budget

President John T. Wahlquist and Business Manager E. S. Thompson are back on campus after receiving authorization in Sacramento Tuesday to submit a revised budget for the 1954-55 year.

Need for the revised budget came about when the ceiling enrollment of 6000, by the Strayer report, was exceeded by 1106 this quarter.

A joint session of the State Education and Finance department will hear the new budget Nov. 10.

Dr. James B. Enoch, a specialist in state college curricula, has been assigned to assist in preparation of the budget.

Appears in Court

This afternoon at 2 o'clock, Leslie Wayne Wilson, who is charged with burglary, is to appear for arraignment before Municipal Judge Percy O'Connor. A date for a preliminary examination will then be set, according to Municipal court officials.

Presentation of Queen Highlights Festivities

More than 4000 persons are expected to dance to music by Jack Fina at the Coronation Ball in Civic auditorium tonight from 9 to 1 o'clock.

Vern Perry, Social Affairs committee head, announced yesterday that light suits would be accepted attire for men but stressed, "dark suits are preferable." Corsages are optional.

Committee Head

VERN PERRY

He invited everyone to a student-faculty reception to be held at 8:30 p.m. in a side room of the auditorium. "We hope the deans and President Wahlquist also will attend," Perry added.

Decorations will be white and gold with a suspended gold crown in the center of the room.

The queen's seven-foot throne will stand behind the orchestra, and will be revealed when she is crowned at 11 p.m. The winner-chosen from the five finalists—will be a secret to the girl herself until the moment of crowning.

Orchestra leader and pianist Jack Fina has played many engagements in San Francisco and Berkeley.

He has appeared in eight movies and on radio and television shows. "Dream Album," his best-known record offering, contains such old favorites as "Dreams," "Girl of My Dreams," and "I'll See You in My Dreams."

Fina was pianist with Freddy Martin's orchestra when he first gained public attention for his modern interpretations of Tchaikovsky and Rachmaninoff.

He left Martin to start his own group, which features smooth and sophisticated dance melodies.

Homecoming Court Chosen

The royal court for the 1953 Homecoming was chosen last night amid the hoops and hollars of the North Texas State rally.

The five girls are Conni MacLean, Delta Sigma Phi; JoAnn McAllister, Sigma Nu; Trish Meyers, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Jayne Peterson, Arnold Air Society; and Virginia Watson, Phi Sigma Kappa.

The 10 semi-finalists paraded before a capacity crowd in the Morris Dailey auditorium, first in street clothes and then in formal. Carolyn King excelled this portion of the show.

Jim Houston, entertainment chairman for rally committee, and Gerry Scoggins, who are known as the "Jazzberries" took over the rally with their singing and guitars.

Following the theme of a Texas tavern, can-can girls Jeanne Bullok, Dolores Mathias, and Sally Curtiss capered to the San Jose State college fight song. Also in typical western garb were the yell leaders, Jim Morris, Swede Elie, Lonnie Manning, Bob Jolly and Joe Jimenez.

The bartenders quit tending their bars to entertain the audience in song. They were Gene Braderick, John Pryor, Gene Sterling and Don Curry. Accompanists were Faye Kidder and Paul West.

Outside the auditorium rally committee members sold yellow and gold pom poms to raise money for new card stunt cards.

The Homecoming queen will be announced and crowned tonight at 11 o'clock at the Coronation Ball. She will be chosen from the five finalists.

Dance Features Halloween Spirits

Tonight is the night for "Spook shuffling," according to Clara Maggini, a trainee at the Santa Clara County hospital, who has invited San Jose State college men to the dance at the Nurses' hall.

Masks but not costumes will be required for the dance which will last from 8:30 p.m. to midnight. It is sponsored by the Junior class at the hospital. Women in training there have completed two years of classroom work on the college campus.

Halloween Themes After-Game Dance

Pumpkins, cornstalks and scarecrows will decorate the Women's gym tomorrow night for the after-game dance sponsored jointly by the Freshman and Junior classes.

The dance will be held directly following the North Texas State-San Jose State football game from 10 p.m. until 1 a.m. Music will be from records. Admission price is 25 cents.

This is the first of two after-game dances sponsored by the classes. The juniors will pay all expenses for the dance, then divide expenses and profits with the freshmen, according to Paul Sakamoto, Junior class president.

Patrons for the dance will be Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Pisano, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Robinson and Capt. James L. Sinkins.

Get Tickets Today

Today is the last day to get tickets to the North Texas State and College of Pacific football games. The tickets may be obtained in the Graduate Manager's office before 5 p.m., announced William Felse, graduate manager.

Backs Fund Drive

Dr. George Muench, chairman of the faculty council, yesterday stated that the council is firmly supporting the present Community Chest drive. He stated that the council has not yet voted to approve the amount requested by the Community Service committee because of a lack of information on the disposition of the fund. The quota set by the service committee for the faculty and non-academic personnel is $5350.

The Weather

Packing away his umbrella, raincoat, longies and smog-proof eyeshade for the fiftieth time this fall, Foggy McCloud gave voice to the following prediction: Fair today; little change in temperature; high, 65-70; low, 40-45.

A Key to Social Success

A carefully thought out plan which has been carried through with decisive action will culminate tonight when the students of San Jose State college attend the Coronation Ball. We think that Vern Perry and the Social Affairs committee should be complimented for this.

In September the decision was made to get a "name" band. The Social Affairs committee hired Jack Fina.

The committee decided they needed publicity. They chose Jim Cottrell to act as publicity agent. Cottrell did an excellent job. Attractive bids were deemed desirable. The Social Affairs committee obtained attractive bids.

What tonight's decorations will be we are not certain, but we would be willing to wager they will be the best possible. That's the way the Social Affairs committee has been doing things.

Next quarter we expect them to put on the best "Wintermist" in the history of the college, if the indications from the Fall Reg dance and the Coronation Ball mean anything.

Careful planning and decisive action have been the keys to success for the Social Affairs committee. Following this example would profit many of the other organizations on the campus.

Statesman Group To Meet Saturday

California Graduate Statesmen, an organization which studies "good government," will convene Saturday in S-112 at 9:30 a.m. to hold their first state meeting of the year.

Students from U.C., Stanford, Pomona, UCLA and San Jose State college will be represented at the meeting.

The convention will last throughout the day and box lunches will be served. Students interested in membership are invited to attend.

Nursing Classes To Visit Hospital

The Graduate nurses class in Ward administration has been invited to attend the head nurses' meeting Tuesday and to tour the new wing at the San Jose hospital. Miss Grace Staple, head of the department, announced yesterday.

Last week the class participated in the head nurses' meeting and program at Santa Clara County Hospital, she said.

Council Appoints Class Secretary

Sara Cozad was appointed secretary of the Junior class by the Student Council in a recent meeting.

The appointment was necessary because no one ran for the office in the class elections held last week.

Miss Cozad was secretary of the Sophomore class last year, and has served as secretary for the juniors this year until the class elections.

THRUST and PARRY

Greeks Show Taste, Talent

Dear Thrust and Parry:

This year's All-Greek show would completely restore everyone's faith in caliber of thinking of which our college men and women are capable.

Not a single act was in poor taste. Not only was the College Administration pleased, but many students expressed the personal satisfaction which they experienced in preparing what they knew would be entertaining and wholly acceptable skits. The originality, the clever costuming and staging, and the finesse of these amateur performances would outdistance many professional productions.

Wednesday night's show clearly demonstrates that the level of a performance depends upon the level of the standards which the group sets for itself. Mrs. Benz and I were very pleased to see all 24 fraternities and sororities participate, especially those organizations which have had slipshod ill-conceived acts in the past. Our faith in them has been vindicated. Congratulations are in order for all students and faculty members who helped make this year's All-Greek show such an outstanding success.

Band Plans Varied Program for Game

The baton twirling of Norma Lieftrick will headline the half-time entertainment at the North Texas State game Saturday night, according to Dr. Robert Flester, director of the San Jose State band.

Half-time festivities will begin with a salute to North Texas State. The band will then form an outline of the Lone Star state and will play, "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

The band will also form a stalk of corn and play "Way Down Yonder in the Corn Field." While playing "Peter, Peter, Pumpkin Eater," they will outline the figure of a Jack O'Lantern on the field.

The group will form a cider jug and play a swing arrangement of "Little Brown Jug." They will then outline a skull and cross bones and play "Dry Bones."

Marilyn Prince, Eleanor Kuntz and Jackie Woods will appear with the band as flag-twirlers. Wanita Wilent and Jeanne Wakstuki will appear with Miss Lieftrick.

The playing of the "San Jose Fight Song" will end the half-time festivities.

College Veterans Drink More, Says Yale Researcher

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — Compared to non-veterans in U.S. colleges, veterans appear to have had more and intensive drinking experiences, reports Robert Straus, research associate at Yale University's Laboratory of Applied Physiology. Straus and Selden D. Bacon, director of Yale's Center of Alcohol Studies, are conducting a five-year study into the drinking habits of American college youth.

But Straus said these differences "disappear completely when age and other selective factors are accounted for. When compared with non-veterans in the same age brackets, veterans show no significant difference in drinking patterns and attitudes." Thus it appears that age and other factors associated with interruption in education, common to veterans and older non-veterans, are the significant factors in the apparent differences between the two groups," he added.

Freshman majors in psychology will be counseled by Walter Plant, sophomores by Dr. Edward Minium, juniors by Dr. James Sawrey, and seniors by Dr. Gene Waller.

Dr. Telford stated that the department has instituted a series of pre-registration counseling interviews and urged all department majors to speak to their counselors before Dec. 7.

He also stated that department members are presently reporting on summer activities at a series of divisional meetings.

Weighty Texans Invade Sparta

San Jose State and North Texas State clash at Spartan Stadium tomorrow night in the first meeting in history between the inter-sectional rivals.

North Texas State, defending Gulf Coast conference champion, will field one of the heaviest teams in the nation, yet is a team capable of prolific scoring.

The Eagles were blanked in their first game, 14-0, by Arizona State, although earning a clear edge in statistics. They lost to powerful Mississippi State, 21-7, then defeated the pro-studded San Diego Navy, 27-13, walloped Midwestern, 39-7, and last week nearly overcame a 20-0 deficit before bowing to Texas Western, 26-21.

The Spartans, after winning their first three games over Idaho, Brigham Young and Fresno, have lost three in a row to Arizona State, California and Oregon. However, they recovered some of their early season offensive zest in practice during the week and Coach Bob Bronzan expects them to be at peak efficiency.

North Texas will start a massive line averaging 216 pounds per man. The Eagle backs will average 194 and the entire team, 208. The Spartan line averages 21 pounds lighter per man, at 195. San Jose's backs will average 178 and the team 190.

Bronzan has made a wholesale revision in his starting lineup, which is expected to include five men starting for the first time this year. They include End Bill Walsh, Guard Ron Green and Fullback Dave Fanner.

Walsh will be starting in place of the injured Charles Hardy; the others have been promoted on the basis of pre-game practice. There may be another change with Sophomore Bob Reinhart a possible starter at quarterback.

Pacing the Eagles are Fullback Gene Bahnsen, brother of the San Francisco 49er rookie fullback, Halfbacks Ralph Reynolds and Dean Renfro, the latter one of the nation's top sprinters and brother of the Cleveland Browns' Ray Renfro, and Lawrence Strickland, 240-pound linebacker and offensive center. Four Californians will be in the starting lineup for the Eagles. They include Quarterback Don Baker of Pittsburg, Guard Ray Verkerk and Tackle Gene Verker of Oroville, and Guard Norm Ingebrigtsen, former St. Mary's player.

The Spartan offense will be sparked by the running of Larry Matthews and Bill Walker and the defense by the Golden Raiders' two fine tackles, John Hamber and Sal Cardinalli.

Tigers Take Rest For SJS Invasion

STOCKTON, Oct. 29—The College of the Pacific Tigers take a well-earned vacation this week from the grid wars before returning to action a week from Saturday night against San Jose State in San Jose.

Pacific wound up the first half of four consecutive road games Saturday afternoon in Milwaukee, Wisc., by hanging a 20-20 tie on two touchdowns favored Marquette in a thriller that saw the Tigers turn back three Marquette scoring opportunities in the final 25 seconds of the game.

ta Clara Youth center. Former Spartan stars Bo McMullen, Gene Haines and Dore Purdy will run under the youth center colors.

The entire college team of about 14 men will participate in the event, Winter said yesterday. However, only seven of these will be counted in the official tabulations. The seven are Don Hubbard, Jack Jones, Allen Dunn, Bob Trott, Dick Vogel, George Raine and Frank Wolfstange.

The new course, to be used for the first time tomorrow, begins in Spartan Field then traverses the surrounding countryside to finish back at Spartan Field.

One of the best vantage points for viewing the race, Winter said, is the railroad trestle at Keyes and 17th streets. There is a tough water jump at this spot which should provide several spills, Winter explained.

Fresno State college was expected to participate in the meet, but Winter said that they had not notified him up to late yesterday.
